ABOUT THE INTERNATIONAL PROPERTY PRICE DATA LIBRARY

The International Property Price Data Library is a web-based platform for the provision of data sources on residential property prices. It offers a comprehensive overview of worldwide existing data on real estate prices, providing information on numerous time-series indices as well as raw data on this economic sector. The intent of the International Property Price Data Library is to provide a service to researchers, policymakers, and students of international finance and economics to ease the burden of gathering data on residential property prices.
